Brighton Returns to Virtual Meetings

Earlier this month, Governor Hochul signed legislation that amended the open meetings law to again temporarily permit local government meetings to be held remotely. Given the significant rise in COVID cases in Monroe County, Brighton Town Board meetings will return to a virtual format for the September 22 regular meeting, and continue virtually through the end of the year. The Zoning Board of Appeals and Planning Board will follow suit beginning at their next scheduled meetings of October 6 and 20, respectively.

As we have done previously, the public will have access to the meetings via video conferencing. Links to join the meetings will be provided on the Town's website at townofbrighton.org. Meetings of the Town Board will continue to be aired on cable channel 1303 and live streamed on the Town's YouTube channel.

Town Hall remains open with masking and distancing requirements in place, although the public is encouraged to conduct their business by phone or through the Town website.
